Dystopia as heretics roots of what love implies outside of misalignment of differential ontology and retrospective encompassing good will. As love permeates faster through the grid deformation of a veil set to blossom the self, as trahison was only advocating a search for truth in a will that scatter stars in a will of fire set to empower the individual, it's environment abstracts, from quantum vacuum, higgs fields, to the boundaries of an unknown infinity, contextualising in observer parallax real, and instant perspectives. As a field of depth carried by aether permeability in a quasi substance ontological influx.
